The weekly meeting of Willimantic Rotary club was held Tuesday noon, when members listened to a report of the International Rotary convention recently held in Edinburgh, Scotland. The report was given by Secretary Charles W. Hill who had secured an Edinburgh paper which gave the report of the meeting in detail. The reading was interesting and gave the members a better idea of the number of countries in which Rotary has been established.

The meeting opened in the usual manner with the singing of America. With George W. Hickey at the piano the members enjoyed several inspiring Rotary songs.

Fred D. Jordan, chairman of the boys' work committee, called for reports from members about securing boarding places for the New York youngsters who are to arrive in this city Friday of this week. Individual members reported and the local club succeeded in finding homes for 19 of these children for two weeks. More may be placed before Friday, bringing the total above twenty.

The children are to arrive Friday and will be escorted to the homes of persons who offer to take them for two weeks and provide entertainment for them.

The practice of providing homes for these New York kiddies is not a new one but the delegation which will spend two weeks of enjoyment in or near Willimantic this year is the largest in the history of this activity has been carried out locally under the auspices of a New York newspaper.

The meeting was turned over to Ray Parker, chairman of entertainment, for the day, and he in turn permitted Charles Hill to introduce Harry Hedy Smith of New Haven, state secretary for the Y. M. C. A. of Connecticut. Smith stated that every county in Connecticut had been organized to date with the exception of Windham county. A county secretary for Windham has already been secured and will begin work as soon as possible. The work done by these county secretaries, said Mr. Smith, covers a vast scope. Boys and girls in the country district, unable to reach the city Y. M. C. A.'s are given all instruction possible in physical, social and religious matters. Conferences are held, athletic events are staged, and the boys and girls learn to pledge themselves to live good lives. This work is only being carried on in Windham county, and reports from other counties where the work has been carried on, indicates that the help received by the boys and girls should not be denied to them. The town of Windham is asked to give $500 for this work and, although Mr. Smith asked for no pledges at the time he requested that any Rotarian interested in the boys and girls lend his aid in financing this worthy project. He stated that Charles W. Hill had agreed to act as a representative of Windham on the county board. Following Mr. Smith's talk, Ray Parker spoke briefly on Rotary subjects. President Frank H. Foss read the Rotary code of ethics. It was voted that the meeting of next week be made one for general discussion if no speaker could be secured.

James B. Fullerton left Tuesday morning on a two week motor trip through northern New England states. While away Mr. Fullerton expects to enjoy trout fishing in New Hampshire.

William Chamberlain, 65, of Babcock Hill, South Coventry, was instantly killed Tuesday morning at 8:40 o'clock, when the farm wagon in which he was riding was struck by the engine of Train No. 8 of the Central Vermont railroad. The accident occurred at the Columbia Avenue crossing. Chamberlain's body was badly mutilated, the horse was killed, the wagon smashed, and its contents scattered for yards along the railroad tracks. Medical Examiner Dr. Louis I. Mason was called and gave permission to an undertaker to remove the body.

So far as is known only one person witnessed the accident. Harry Gilbert, son of Nelson Gilbert of Columbia Avenue, told the medical examiner that he was working in the garden and when he heard the whistle he turned and saw the train approaching from the west. He saw Chamberlain, the latter seemed unaware of his danger and drove on the tracks directly in front of the engine. Gilbert said the horse, wagon, man, and wagon contents were pushed along the tracks and that Chamberlain was thrown into the air, apparently landing on the driving end on the left side of the engine, later being buried down the bank. Two other boys, Theodore Danseman and Anthony Citek, said they heard the whistle of the train, but did not see the accident.

The engineer of the train, William Murphy told of seeing the team only a short distance away, and he blew the whistle. It looked as though the horse was running away and that Chamberlain was trying to stop it. The accident was unavoidable. The conductor of the train was John Riley. It was one of the worst accidents that have taken place at this crossing. The body of the horse was dragged fifty feet and the body of Chamberlain about twice that distance. Both fell to the left side of the tracks. The wagon, its milk cans, and other contents were scattered for sixty feet along the tracks.

The Willimantic police were called and guarded the body of Chamberlain until the arrival of the medical examiner. Chamberlain came daily to Willimantic where he had a milk route, and disposed of vegetables. It was stated that his leaving was not good and this accounted for his failure to note his danger in time. The pocketbook he carried was found some twenty feet from his body, the bills being undamaged. The change that had been carried in his pockets was scattered along the banks of the railroad.

Mr. Chamberlain is survived by two sons, Frederick of Northampton, Mass., and Leo of Philadelphia, Pa.; two daughters, Mrs. Maud Tennant and Mrs. Florence Draper of New York state; a sister, Mrs. Ralph Clark of this city, and a brother, Rowell Chamberlain of North Westchester, Conn.

Odell M. Chapman, for several years major of the Third Connecticut Dragoon Corps, has resigned from the corps and his resignation was recently accepted. Major Chapman was one of the organizers of the corps. Business was given as the reason for his resignation as he could no longer devote sufficient time to the organization. Arthur Jacobs has been elected major to succeed Mr. Chapman. It is said, is at the head of another life and drum organization formed about a month ago and which is making good progress. Store fire had arisen between Major Chapman and members of the corps due to an occurrence at the recent field day of the Connecticut Dragoon Corps. This is not due.

Lucky? Why, man, I'm the Human Horseshoe!

I CERTAINLY was born
UNDER A lucky star.
FOR INSTANCE—the time,
I HOOKED my bonds.
TO PLAY the market.
ON A sure thing tip.
AND BOUGHT Slippery Ellum.
AT SEVENTY-TWO.
FOR A healthy rim.
AND FOR seven days,
I HUGGED the ticker,
AND COULDN'T sleep.
ONCE IT jumped two points,
AND I walked on air,
AND THAT very day,
I SAW a sign.
IN A cigar stand,
THAT SAID "Satisfy."
IT GAVE me a hunch,
TO BE satisfied,
WITH WHAT I'd got,
AND NOT hog the deal.
SO I phoned my broker,
TO SELL me out.
AND THE very next day,
SLIPPERY ELLUM slipped,
TO FIFTY-FIVE.
SO NOW I've gotten,
BACK MY bonds.
AND BABY'S got new shoes.
AND NOW my regular smokes,
ARE THE cigarettes,
THAT "SATISFY."

WHENEVER you get that "Satisfy" hunch, play it Steer straight for the nearest stand and invest in Chesterfield. This combination of fine Turkish tobacco, blended with Burley and other Domestic leaf, will give you a new measure of cigarette enjoyment. You're in luck from that day on.
